

Determine the chromatic number (minimum number of colors in a proper coloring) of each of these graphs.

To show that the chromatic number is k , you must

1. find a proper coloring with k colors (where adjacent vertices must receive different colors)
2. explain why there is no proper coloring with fewer than k colors

